GET READY FOR AN EXPERIENCE

On behalf of our team, hi y’alls! Whether you’re reading this because you’re in search of a weekend getaway, starting to plan your trip or already here, this Visitor’s Guide will help you experience the best of Fayetteville. Although this pandemic has affected us all, I am heartened by your overwhelming desire to explore and get outdoors.

First-time visitors are in for a treat! Immersed in the breathtaking beauty of the Ozarks, Fayetteville is the entertainment capital of Northwest Arkansas, with its thriving arts scene, legendary live music and nightlife, culinary treasures, and events and attractions for all ages.

Our team is excited and honored to share with you the city we love — and we’re happy to give you some insider tips. Our community prides itself on being inclusive and welcoming to all, as well as supportive of all things local. From Razorbacks games to the Farmers’ Market to performances at the Walton Arts Center and TheatreSquared, we invite you to join in on the fun.

I could spend all day telling you why Fayetteville is amazing, but turn the page and find out for yourself. Better yet, explore it in person and experience what everyone has been talking about. Make sure to stop by the Experience Fayetteville Visitors Center to find out what’s going on while you’re here. We look forward to showing you our home.

A MUST-VISIT WHEN YOU VISIT

The Experience Fayetteville Visitors Center, located on the Historic Downtown Square at 21 S Block, is the go-to place to learn about the best things to do and events going on while you’re in town.

The Visitors Center recently finished a renovation focused on making it more fun and inspiring for guests. New custom-made features include seating areas, a phone charging station and local art, plus videos and wall maps showcasing attractions throughout Fayetteville. As the neon sign says, all are welcome.

Make this your first stop to get a free Visitor’s Guide, Fayetteville Ale Trail passport, maps, and brochures to help you get around. Plus, browse a unique assortment of locally made merchandise and one-of-a-kind souvenirs!

The center is open from 9am-5pm, Monday through Friday, and from 9am-1pm on Saturday.

TRANQUILITY ABOVE THE CITY

Mount Sequoyah Retreat and Conference Center is a beautiful, peaceful retreat for individuals and families, groups and nonprofit groups, business conferences and everything in between. Here, you can meet, relax and bask in the scenic splendor of the Ozarks. The 32-acre campus features a variety of lodging facilities and meeting locations and is convenient to the heart of Fayetteville.

Mt. Sequoyah is the highest point in Fayetteville, and an overlook on the west side of the mountain offers a premier view of the city. If you are looking for a place to gather, but also unwind and surround yourself in nature, then look no further than Mount Sequoyah.

EXPLORE A LONG HISTORY IN A SHORT TIME

From its beginning as a home to the Osage tribe to becoming the Washington County seat, Fayetteville has a fascinating history to discover. Fun fact: The postmaster general ordered the city, originally called Washington, to be renamed because a town with that name already existed in the state. Fayetteville was chosen because two of the commissioners were from Fayetteville, Tennessee.

LEARN MORE ABOUT OUR CITY’S PAST WHEN YOU VISIT. HERE ARE SOME HIGHLIGHTS TO GET YOU STARTED:

ARCHIBALD YELL
In front of the old Washington County Courthouse, a plaque honors Archibald Yell, Fayetteville’s first senator and the second governor of Arkansas.

ARKANSAS COLLEGE
Founded by Robert Graham in 1850, the college was the first to award collegiate degrees in the state before burning to the ground during the Civil War.

BATTLE OF FAYETTEVILLE
On April 18, 1863, Confederate forces launched an attack on Union forces in the heart of downtown Fayetteville. The Union came away victorious in this battle, one of the last engagements of the Civil War in Arkansas. At the southeast corner of College Avenue and Dickson Street, a historical marker designates the Battle of Fayetteville in the Civil War.

BUTTERFIELD OVERLAND MAIL ROUTE FAYETTEVILLE
Fayetteville was a major stop on the grueling 2,800-mile stagecoach journey that made daily runs from St. Louis to San Francisco. Today, the heritage trail system includes Civil War history and a scenic train ride through the Ozarks.

CLINTON HOUSE MUSEUM
(See page 17)

CONFEDERATE CEMETERY
500 E Rock
Serves as the final resting place for 500 Confederate soldiers from Texas, Missouri, Louisiana and Arkansas.

FAYETTEVILLE FEMALE SEMINARY
Sophia Sawyer, a missionary to the Cherokee Nation, moved to Fayetteville and established the seminary in 1839 with 14 Cherokee girls as students. At its peak, the school had 200 students. A historical marker on Mountain Street between Locust and School commemorates the seminary.

HEADQUARTERS HOUSE
118 E Dickson
Built in 1853 by Judge Jonas Tebbetts, this building served as a command post for both the Union and Confederate armies during the Civil War. Today, it houses a museum and the Washington County Historical Society.

NATIONAL CEMETERY
700 S Government
The National Cemetery, established in 1867, is one of the original 14 authorized by President Lincoln.

OLD MAIN
416 Campus
The University of Arkansas’ most well-known and beloved building was completed in 1875.

THE OLD POST OFFICE
Located in the center of the Historic Downtown Square, this was built in 1909 and is offset by Square Gardens. (Now home to the restaurant Cheers!)

RIDGE HOUSE
206 W Center
Now Moore’s Funeral Home, this home was built in 1857 by Henry Reiff. It was first used as a commissary for the Confederate army in 1862, but following the Battle of Fayetteville, it was held by Union soldiers.

SMOKY ROW
A section of Center Street, it was once known as Smoky Row because of the people who would build fires in nearby vacant lots, filling adjacent hotels and boarding houses with smoke.

THE WALKER STONE HOUSE
207 W Center
Built in the late 1840s, it is a well-preserved example of the Georgian and Federal styles of brick houses often found in the eastern United States. This was the home of noted architect Edward Durell Stone’s grandfather. It is now home to one of Fayetteville’s favorite public-art installations. “Deer Half Deer” by Bordalo II of Portugal.

THE OLD WASHINGTON COUNTY COURTHOUSE
4 S College
The fifth Washington County Courthouse, still standing, was designed by Charles Thompson. It was built in 1904 out of native stone that was hand-cut and hauled to the site by ox-drawn wagons from West Fork, 15 miles south.

WASHINGTON COUNTY JAIL
Built in 1897, this former jail has a three-foot-thick cut stone wall and boasts semicircular arched openings of the Romanesque architectural style.

WASHINGTON-WILLOW HISTORIC DISTRICT
Roughly bounded by College and Walnut Avenues and Rebecca and Spring Streets. On the National Register of Historic Places, this 37+ acre district includes 105 primary structures, 19 of which have special architectural significance.
HISTORY TAKES FLIGHT

Travel back in time at the state’s largest and most fascinating aviation collection — the Arkansas Air & Military Museum. Located at Fayetteville’s Drake Field, the historic hangar that houses the museum is one of the nation’s few remaining all-wood structures from the World War II era. Founded in 1986, the museum holds collections of classic aircraft in flight-service condition from the 1920s and ’30s, modern planes from the post-World War II era and static displays of key military aircraft from the Vietnam era.

In addition to vintage aircraft, privately owned planes are on loan to the museum, including Sam Walton’s first airplane — a two-seater aircraft used to travel a three-state area to visit prospective Walmart sites. Modern-day planes round out the museum’s collection and provide a glimpse into the world of corporate and high-end private transportation in the 21st century.

Visitors learn about Drake Field’s role in the training of aviators during World War II and view aviation-related artifacts, including an authentic WWI-era Curtiss OX-5 engine and the City of Fayetteville flag that was aboard the Space Shuttle Discovery.

A POLITICAL POWER HOUSE

Located near the University of Arkansas campus, the Clinton House Museum is the first home of former President Bill Clinton and Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton. In 1975, the two were married in the living room of this stellar 1930s Tudor Revival Style bungalow. Today, this modest house is a glimpse into the Clintons’ lives that most people never get — a life before a presidency and international recognition, a life dedicated to teaching at the law school and public service.

The museum is open every day except Wednesday and hosts numerous arts and cultural events throughout the year, featuring several rotating exhibits.

With 2020 being both the museum’s 10th anniversary and Bill and Hillary’s 45th wedding anniversary, there’s a lot to celebrate this year! So be sure to check for upcoming events on the museum’s website and social media.

LOCAL PRIDE

Celebrating its 17th year in 2021, the NWA Pride Parade and Festival is the largest LGBTQ+ Pride celebration in the state. Each year, more and more visitors from all around the nation and beyond come to participate in our uniquely NWA celebration of LGBTQ+ people.

The city of Fayetteville has long been a supporter of equal rights. In fact, the Human Rights Campaign consistently lists Fayetteville at the top of its Municipal Equality Index for Arkansas. The index is an evaluation that examines cities’ “laws, policies and services, and rates them on the basis of their inclusivity of LGBTQ people who live and work there.”

The NWA Pride Parade and Festival are normally held in the Downtown & Dickson Street Entertainment District, with many local businesses lending their support in the form of themed parties, games and much more.

RELIVE BLASTS FROM THE PAST

At the Arkadia Retrocade, parents can relive their arcade days on games like Pac-Man and Donkey Kong, and even kids used to fancy PlayStation setups will enjoy the timeless strategies of games like Tetris and Asteroids. Here, families can spend an afternoon bonding over the classic, stand-up arcade machines.

And the games are straight from the ’80s. Owner Shea Mathis finds and collects vintage, out-of-service machines, fixes them up and installs them in his Retrocade, located in the Evelyn Hills Shopping Center.

Admission is $5 — cash only — and covers you for all-day game play, no quarters necessary. The Retrocade also has a refreshment area and couches in the back when you need a break. Party rooms with board games are available for rent, and patrons are welcome to bring outside food and alcohol into the facility.

A NATURAL CHOICE FOR SEEING BEAUTY

The Botanical Garden of the Ozarks is one of the state’s premier public garden spaces. An ever-changing attraction, the garden currently features nine displays showcasing the many woody, herbaceous and exotic plant and flower species that thrive in Northwest Arkansas.

The garden is on the shores of Lake Fayetteville in the heart of Northwest Arkansas, located at 4703 N Crossover (Hwy 265). For more than a decade, visitors from across the nation and around the world have toured the garden and attended events, including classes and workshops, concerts, weddings, community gatherings, children’s programs, Sunday farmers’ markets and semiannual plant sales.

The facility has a 6,000-square-foot demonstration garden, the state’s only butterfly house and a gift shop.

FOOD FOR YOUR HEALTHY APPETITE

The Fayetteville Farmers’ Market has been the epicenter in the region for locally grown produce and handmade goods since 1973.

It starts with fruits and vegetables; the Farmers’ Market can supply everything from eggs, meats and baked goods to homemade jams and honey, as well as an array of flowers and plants.

In addition to everything else you’d expect from a farmers’ market, there are crafts and fine art from the region for sale. On Saturdays, the “Crown Jewel of Fayetteville” often hums with the sounds of street performers and musicians. This variety may be why our market won the top spot in the America’s Favorite Farmers Market contest.

Located on the Historic Downtown Square, the Fayetteville Farmers’ Market is open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings from April through November. During December through March, there’s an indoor market at Ozark Natural Foods on N College Ave. You can also order online at FayettevilleArkansas.LocallyGrown.net/Market!

For more information, go to FayettevilleFarmersMarket.org.

WHEN THE TIME IS RIPE

Wondering when to find your favorite fruits and vegetables at the Fayetteville Farmers’ Market? Or wanting to know when you should go pick them yourself? Check the harvest calendar for what’s in season each month.

To help you get around while you’re here, Fayetteville offers a few bicycle- and scooter-sharing services throughout most of the city. They’re fast and easy — and nonpolluting!

The University of Arkansas, City of Fayetteville and Experience Fayetteville partnered with VeoRide to launch Arkansas’ largest bike share program. In its first year, 8,705 VeoRide users took more than 85,000 rides covering more than 18,000 miles — all with zero injuries reported.

Another fun way to experience the city is through one of the two e-scooter programs. Both VeoRide and Spin have e-scooters available to scan and ride in the downtown and entertainment district, as well as on the University of Arkansas campus.

In all, Fayetteville has a fleet of more than 300 VeoRide bikes (some of which are e-bikes), as well as 500 scooters (both Spin and VeoRide).

The process for both bike and the e-scooter programs is simple: find and reserve a scooter or bike nearby with the appropriate app, scan the QR code on the bike or scooter to unlock it, ride to your destination and park it in a designated area for the next person.

Be sure to pick up the official Fayetteville Trails Guide at the Experience Fayetteville Visitor Center!

WATCH HOLLYWOOD’S STARS UNDER THE FAYETTEVILLE STARS

If you’ve ever wanted to watch a movie under a canopy of stars like your parents did, the 112 Drive-In Theatre is your chance. From mid-March to mid-October, Fayetteville is home to one of the nation’s last drive-ins. With a snack stand serving popcorn, hot dogs, sodas and nachos, it offers the nostalgia of a ballpark, but with more plot lines.

Playing new and old releases after the sun sets on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, the 112 Drive-In is often cheaper than a regular movie theater. Prices are $10 for ages 13 and up; $5 for ages 6-12. Kids ages 5 and under get in free! And unlike most modern-day theaters, outside food and drinks are allowed at the drive-in. With double features playing each night, you can see two for the price of one.

Sound is streamed through your radio or via speakers placed on the ground near the parking spots, so set out chairs, put down blankets in the truck bed or the back of the SUV and get cozy. It’s a relaxing way to spend a cool summer night with the entire family.

ART IS ALL AROUND

Maybe it’s the natural landscape, maybe it’s the people, maybe it’s the food – whatever it is, there’s just something about Fayetteville that brings out creativity. Both local and international artists have been inspired to paint, sculpt, chisel and sketch their style on the walls and streets of our city, making a more bright and vibrant experience for visitors and locals. From towering murals to thought-provoking installations, you never know what could be around the corner.

THE ARTS

LOCAL ARTISTS

TIGER SASHA
Russian-born artist Sasha “Tigersasha” Rayevski moved to Arkansas with his family in the mid 90s. Since then, he has made Fayetteville not only his home, but also his canvas. His bold and brightly colored murals can be seen around town, like the one on The Academy at Frisco.

KAT WILSON
From photography to painting, Kat Wilson aims to create works of art that can be appreciated by everyone. She installed a #SelfieThrone in her studio – a large, intricately-designed chair where visitors can sit and snap a pic! She is an outspoken advocate for local artists, and even helped launch First Thursday Open Studios as a way to showcase how Fayetteville artists contribute to the community.

SHARON KILLIAN
Sharon Killian immigrated to Harlem, New York from Jamaica, West Indies. While growing up in New York, she spent a lot of her time in the art museums and galleries of Manhattan. She now calls Fayetteville her home, painting familiar objects and scenes in her unique abstract style. Her work can be found in several private and corporate collections including Tyson Foods, the University of Arkansas, and Northwest Arkansas Community College. Plus, she’s president of both Art Ventures NWA and NWA African American Heritage Association.

ANTHONY BALL
Anthony Ball is a local music veteran. From behind his drum kit, he’s toured the country and graced the stage with legendary acts such as Arkansas Gospel Mass Choir, Miles Savage (The Platters), Maurette Brown Clark, Joey Williams (Blind Boys of Alabama), Paul Jackson Jr., The O’Jay’s, and many more. While he’s not playing, he’s in charge of Smoothman Music Productions, an entertainment booking and production company, and the recent Music Moves, a non-profit promoting African American music through programs, performances, and curriculum.

RUSSELL SHARMAN
Russell Leigh Sharman is a writer, filmmaker and anthropologist. Since 2008, he has worked for several studios and production companies, including Warner Brothers, Fox, Disney, MRC, DeLine Pictures, 21 Laps, Participant Media, Montecito Pictures, The Mark Gordon Company and Real FX. He’s also written and directed many indie feature films, short films and documentaries. He is currently Assistant Professor of Practice in the Department of Communication at the University of Arkansas where he teaches film and is the Executive Director of the Fayetteville Film Fest.

THE HONEY COLLECTIVE
This five-piece band based in Fayetteville fuses raw jazz, funk and hip-hop grooves. Honey Collective includes Aricka Lewis (vocals), Erick Amaya (trumpet), Matt Magerkurth (cello, bass), Walter Ferguson (drums) and Jordan Strickland (keys, guitar, vocals). The band began when Ferguson and Strickland met studying percussion at the University of Arkansas. The band has released two EPs and performed all around Northwest Arkansas, as well as toured in the U.S. Northeast thanks to a grant through the UA Music Department.
YOUR NEW FAVORITE DAY OF THE WEEK

The highlight of festival fun in Fayetteville happens with First Thursday on the Historic Downtown Square. Held on the first Thursday of the month from May through October, this family-friendly, community-centered event is the perfect mix of music, food, art and fun.

The square becomes a lively arts district where participating galleries and art-related venues offer free access to both visual and performing art. Visitors can browse as they enjoy live music from local musicians.

There is always free parking in the Town Center parking lot during First Thursdays and, if the weather doesn’t cooperate, the fun simply moves into the Town Center.

For music line-ups and more, including themes for each month, visit ExperienceFayetteville.com/First-Thursday!
WHERE FAYETTEVILLE GOES TO PARTY

Fayetteville has long been considered the entertainment headquarters of the region, and a huge part of that reason is the Downtown and Dickson Street areas. They serve as the epicenter of fun for people throughout Northwest Arkansas. Dickson Street is home to many of Fayetteville’s unique boutiques, galleries, bars and restaurants. And, as the region’s entertainment destination, it’s a guaranteed good time for everyone.

Discover the eclectic sounds of Fayetteville at one of the many bars and restaurants offering live music almost every night of the week. From dancing to shooting pool, there is something for everyone’s tastes.

The energy on Dickson Street will reinvigorate even the most exhausted tourist (or resident). Here, you’ll find George’s Majestic Lounge, the oldest and longest-running club and live music venue in Arkansas. Some of the nation’s best-known names in music have played on Dickson Street. Tomorrow’s stars may even be playing while you’re here.

And the fun doesn’t have to stop when the sun comes up. Spend your morning wandering through some of the city’s most unique retail shops and have a relaxing lunch on your choice of patios. Savor a white tablecloth dinner at one of many renowned restaurants. Stop for an afternoon dessert or stroll the Downtown Square gardens. Maybe just sit and watch the crowds go by. For people-watching alone, Downtown and Dickson Street are a must.

Still not convinced? See for yourself! It’s not hard to find, just listen for the heartbeat and follow it to Downtown and Dickson Street.
FOOD TRUCK HEAVEN

In the heart of Dickson Street is a food court that shouldn’t be skipped. Filled with a half-dozen or so food trucks, Shulertown offers an eclectic mix of menu options, including Tex-Mex, vegetarian, barbecue and even ice cream.

Perfect for an al fresco lunch or late-night noshing after exploring the Dickson Street Entertainment District, Shulertown attracts crowds at all hours. You’ll find its picnic tables filled with college students, families and young couples – pretty much anyone who appreciates great food served in an out-of-the-ordinary atmosphere.

The Shulertown name honors the history of the area. It was the nickname for an area of Dickson Street, named for T. Fred Shuler, a soda jerk at the late Live and Let Live drugstore on Dickson in the late 1800s and early 1900s. Today, the Shulertown name lives on at 372 W Dickson Street.

PARKING INFORMATION

PAY-BY-PHONE PARKING
Sign up for a free PayByPhone account at paybyphone.com or 888-450-PARK (7275).

You can then pay by phone, entering the location number for Fayetteville (#2525), your parking space number and your desired parking time. A 35-cent convenience fee applies.

You can also receive a text message reminder a few minutes before your time expires and add more time to prevent a parking violation.

If you’re parking in the Historic Downtown Square, there’s free two-hour parking during the day and after 6pm.

PAY STATIONS FOR ON-STREET PARKING
You’ll find pay stations in and around the Dickson Street area. Just enter your number and pay with cash or credit. You can even add time from any machine, even when you’re not near your original parking space.

In gated lots, payment must be made when exiting.

Pay stations can be used for on-street parking. Some streets are marked for permit-only residential parking. Parking there without a permit may result in a citation.
FEAST YOUR EARS

A dynamic music scene is a major part of Fayetteville’s thriving arts community. An eclectic mix of musicians practice their craft here and can be heard all over the city — on the streets of the Farmers’ Market, in a late-night lounge or at the Walton Arts Center.

PINPOINT

Did you know Fayetteville has a time machine? Well, not technically, but one trip to Pinpoint just may whisk you away to a simpler time when all that mattered was getting that high score on your local pinball machine.

Located right off of Fayetteville's Historic Downtown Square, Pinpoint is Arkansas’ first and only pinball bar. In addition to the many classic pinball cabinets, there’s Skee-Ball, darts and more — all in a relaxed, 21+ environment. And why is it 21+, you may ask? At Pinpoint, you can enjoy craft beer, gin and tonics or whatever your favorite adult beverage may be. Plus, it's open late!

23 N Block | PinpointFayetteville.com
Located between legendary American music cities like Kansas City and Memphis, Fayetteville has served as a musical crossroads and heralded stop for many up-and-coming acts, thanks to the community’s deep appreciation for live music.

Establishments like George’s Majestic Lounge — the oldest and longest-running club and live music venue in Arkansas — continue to bill incredible acts, showcasing to Fayetteville and its visitors the best in local, regional and national acts, from Robert Cray and Sturgill Simpson to Leftover Salmon and Robert Randolph.

Homegrown talent includes rockabilly legend Ronnie Hawkins, who brought to Fayetteville some of rock ‘n’ roll’s earliest pioneers, including Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins, Roy Orbison and Conway Twitty. Several members of Hawkins’ backing band, The Hawks — Levon Helm, Robbie Robertson, Rick Danko, Richard Manuel and Garth Hudson — would go on to form The Band.
WHERE MUSIC AND FOOD GET BACK TO THEIR ROOTS

Originally a one-day event when it started in 2010, the Fayetteville Roots Festival is now a must-experience for Arkansans and out-of-staters alike. It spans four days in August, serving as an urban festival celebrating folk music and food. Dozens of musicians perform on stages throughout downtown. In previous years, the Roots Festival has seen big names like the Old Crow Medicine Show, Gillian Welch, John Prine, Guy Clark and Lucinda Williams, Mavis Staples and Ronnie Hawkins. And each year, the names keep getting bigger. The music starts early in the morning and always continues past midnight in the lounges and bars.

Renowned chefs, including James Beard nominees, headline the culinary experience of the festival. They all bring to the table unique, diverse styles and infuse Ozark ingredients and culture to create innovative dishes, giving attendees access to new and exciting foods and flavors. Roots Festival also supports local farmers, chefs and restaurants, focusing on locally grown and raised ingredients from the Ozarks. Plus, the Roots Festival showcases film screenings, live radio broadcasts, workshops, a kids/family concert, live art and more that attracts visitors from more than 25 states and countries!

PreludeBreakfast.com
Brunch without booze is just a lonely breakfast, says the menu, which includes fresh ingredients from the family farm and refreshing drinks. Start your day off right.
Hammontree’s

Located in the heart of Fayetteville’s Entertainment District, Hammontree’s Grilled Cheese has been a local staple for years. Their sandwiches aren’t your typical grilled cheese; these are gourmet, locally sourced sandwiches that come in all kinds of creative styles. From the Pig Sooie to the Ozark Monte Cristo, every grilled cheese is packed with unforgettable flavors. But that’s not all...

In addition to their legendary grilled cheese, Hammontree’s makes plenty of other foodie-approved dishes like hot dogs with locally made sausages, Gouda-Bacon Fries, and so much more. Hammontree’s is a must-try when you’re in town, so come grab a seat!

ALLEN BRUMETT
OWNER OF SASSY’S RED HOUSE

What’s your favorite place to eat?
We eat out way too much, so it depends on what we’re doing! A nice night out is going to Bordino’s or Doe’s. If it’s something quick, we’ll hit Slims, CJ’s, Newk’s or one of the many taco places around.

What’s one word to describe Fayetteville?
Special. There’s not a lot of places like Fayetteville.

What are your favorite events?
I’m usually working when all the cool events are going on around town, but anything Razorback related is my favorite. Bikes Blues and BBQ still brings a lot of folks to town and keeps us super busy, so I’m still a fan of it and the economic impact it has on local restaurants.

What’s the best show you’ve seen in town?
Probably seeing Sturgill Simpson at George’s. He’s now selling out arenas with Tyler Childers, and he played right over there. I’m a big Texas/Red Dirt Country fan, so I go to a lot of shows at George’s.

What’s your favorite Razorback memory?
Houston Nutt’s first year was my junior year of college, so that whole season was pretty special for me. Also, Qualls with the putback slam against Kentucky – I was actually there! But sitting on my parent’s floor, cheering the Razorbacks as they won the national championship, will always be a favorite memory.

What makes barbecue so beloved?
Barbecue is crazy. With other food, people jump around to other burger joints and taco places, [but] people are loyal to their barbecue place. I think people respect the time and work that goes into making good barbecue.

What’s the best thing about owning a restaurant in Fayetteville?
Getting to know so many great people and being involved with something I have loved my whole life like the Razorbacks is really unbelievable. Being in the business for 22 years around town, I feel like I’ve met about everyone.

Flying Possum Leather

Since 1976, Flying Possum Leather has been a Fayetteville mainstay for all things Birkenstock. In fact, they were the very first store in town to sell the iconic brand and are still the only repair dealer in the state. But in addition to Birks, Flying Possum creates and sells custom leather items, such as guitar straps, gloves, pet collars and more. Area musicians swear by the shop’s famous Walker acoustic guitar straps, used by legends like Neil Young, Willie Nelson and Connor Oberst. Flying Possum truly keeps the spirit of Fayetteville alive by showcasing their artistry and craftsmanship year after year.

BEN UPCHURCH
Owner of The Bike Route

What are your favorite places to eat in Fayetteville?
Hugo's, Bordino's and Pesto Cafe.

What's one word you'd use to describe Fayetteville?
Hip!

What are your favorite events in town?
Joe Martin Stage Race, Razorback basketball games, Restore Humanity Winetopia.

What's the most surprising thing about Fayetteville?
The abundance of paved trails, college town feel.

When friends or family visit, where do you take them for a good intro to Fayetteville?
Walton Arts Center, University of Arkansas campus, view from Mount Sequoyah.

What is the cycling community like now in Fayetteville?
Huge! Tons of new riders, and the group road rides are amazing.

What are your thoughts on the evolution of the Fayetteville cycling scene over the years?
I've been riding here for 27 years, and the growth is the most amazing [thing]. We have an inordinate number of paved trails, open roads, pristine gravel trails and fantastic mountain bike trails.

What are some of your favorite trails in Fayetteville?
Paved – The Bike Route to Kessler Park and back
Mountain bike – Kessler
Gravel – Tilly Willy to Brentwood
Road – The classic Tontitown and back on Mount Comfort Road

What are your favorite places to go in Fayetteville after a good ride?
Fossil Cove for beers, Wright's Barbecue for food!

The Outdoors
A BREATH OF FRESH AIR

Fayetteville is overflowing with natural areas and parks, encompassing 3,000 acres of land, 70 parks with 40 miles of paved and natural trails, three lakes, 43 athletic fields/courts, a swimming pool, a BMX track and even a skate park. Whatever you want to do, it's free of charge. Fayetteville parks are the perfect place for public events such as the Summer Concert Series or private gatherings such as family reunions or birthday parties.

For more information on all parks, including activities and the latest events, visit Fayetteville-AR.gov/150/Parks-Recreation.

NATURAL AREAS

Many of the parks are designated natural areas. They’re either popular but uncluttered with manmade amenities, or remote and secluded. Those categorized as natural areas include:

- Brooks-Hummel Nature Preserve
- Gregg Avenue Natural Area
- Gregory Park
- Habitat for Humanity Park Land
- Hamstring Creek Trail — Bridgeport Drive
- Hamstring Creek Trail — Granby Street

WILDLIFE HABITATS

Twenty-six of Fayetteville’s parks are certified as part of the National Wildlife Federation’s Certified Wildlife Habitat™ program. Sites must provide food sources and places for wildlife to raise their young, and sites must incorporate sustainable gardening practices. These elements are all essential for a healthy and sustainable wildlife habitat.

One of the trail’s major attractions is the 43-mile segment following the Buffalo National River. Other major segments of the trail include the Boston Mountains, the Sylamore area, and Lake Norfork.

BUFFALO NATIONAL RIVER
N 36°10’24.60” W 92°25’20.39”

This iconic 153-mile river is not only home to some of the state’s most breathtaking scenery, but also it was the first National River to be designated in the United States. From hiking to floating to fishing, you’re in for a truly historic adventure.
PUTTING THE FRIENDLY IN BIKE-FRIENDLY CITY

From its easily accessible bike lanes on major roads to the new VeoRide bikeshare program around the city, Fayetteville is well known as a bike-friendly city.

In fact, Fayetteville is the highest-rated Bicycle Friendly Community in the state by The League of American Bicycles, which lists the U of A as a Bicycle Friendly University and 25 different Fayetteville organizations as being Bicycle Friendly Businesses, the sixth most in the U.S.!

Also, PeopleforBikes, a national bicycling advocacy group, ranked Fayetteville at the top of its list of best bicycle cities in Arkansas, with its rating score based on five factors: ridership, safety, network, reach and acceleration. Of 480 total U.S. cities, Fayetteville was ranked No. 45.

So whether you bring your own road bike or rent one for the day, the city is easy to explore on two wheels.

Before you hit the streets, hit one of the area’s many places to rent a bike:

GET OUTSIDE AND GET OUT OF TOWN

Stretching across several cities in Northwest Arkansas is the Razorback Regional Greenway, the longest system of interconnected trails in the state. The 40-mile biking and pedestrian trail starts at Kessler Mountain Regional Park in Fayetteville and ends near Bella Vista.

It was built, in part, to promote active lifestyles and healthy living in Northwest Arkansas. It gives residents and visitors a space to run, bike, jog or simply enjoy a leisurely stroll, with access for everyone.

The Greenway also promotes alternative transportation. It connects an incredible number of public spaces – shopping areas, art and entertainment venues, schools, residential areas, historic sites, parks, playgrounds, hospitals, the U of A campus, several corporate headquarters and more – allowing people to forgo their cars and use the Razorback Regional Greenway as a way to move around in Fayetteville.

The Razorback Regional Greenway is perfect for families, no matter your experience level! From ride events to easy access to shopping and entertainment, the trail is a fun, nontraditional way to get from here to there as a family, letting you make memories that’ll last a lifetime!

The Razorback Regional Greenway was 20 years in the making, and with that vision now realized, it gives bikers and pedestrians a safe space to call their own. Be sure to navigate part (or all!) of the Razorback Regional Greenway’s 40 miles for yourself.
OUTDOORS

ADVENTURE AWAITS

Fayetteville also is home to many road biking opportunities, both in town and just beyond the city limits.

Newbies will find plenty of places to improve their skills, like Savoy Loop (29 miles) with its low traffic and mostly flat terrain. Or take your skills a little further with the scenic Black Oak Loop (42 miles). For the expert bikers looking for a little trickier terrain, there’s the appropriately named Winslow Death March Loop (67 miles) – a scenic yet challenging route with plenty of sustained climbs. For gravel cyclists, you can connect to one of the largest county road networks in Arkansas, including 500 miles of gravel roads snaking throughout the Ozark Mountains.

With our year-round temperate climate and challenging roads featuring major climbs thanks to the surrounding Ozark Mountains, many people come to Fayetteville to train. Cyclists also come to Fayetteville for festival-like cycling events, like the Highway 71 Classic “pastry tour,” in which aid stations along the way are stocked with pastries from local bakeries. Another is the Joe Martin Stage Race, one of only three multiday stage races on the ICU world calendar — and the only one not on either the West or East coast.

In other words, cyclists love Fayetteville.
CONQUER THE MOUNTAIN

Fayetteville is one of only 37 certified IMBA Ride Centers in the world, making it a mountain biking must-do in Arkansas. Enthusiasts will find more than 50 miles of off-road trails, with something for every skill level. And there are more soft-surface trails added every year! Being surrounded by the beautiful Ozark Mountains, it’s not hard to see why so many MTB riders love Fayetteville.

Mt. Kessler is considered the center of mountain biking in Fayetteville and is definitely the place to be for riders of all abilities. Featuring 11 miles of soft-surface trails, the trailhead is located conveniently at the recently opened Kessler Mountain Regional Park, so parking and access are easy.

Outside of Mt. Kessler, there are plenty of other mountain biking opportunities, like Gregory Park, with its new pump track. There’s also the breathtaking scenery on Mount Sequoyah and its several trails ready for you to explore!

If cyclocross is your thing, Centennial Park at Millsap Mountain is a challenging new course. It hosts several national level races like OzCross and FayetteCross, and also the upcoming 2022 Cyclocross World Championship. There’s also plenty of gravel riding throughout the surrounding Ozark Mountains.

No matter what kind of ride you’re looking for, you’ll find it in Fayetteville. Want to be king or queen of the mountain? Here’s your chance.
GET INTO THE FLOW

In and around Fayetteville are a variety of lakes and rivers for any kind of water activity you could want.

BEAVER LAKE
Beaver-Lake.com
Beaver Lake covers nearly 70 miles, with 487 miles of shoreline, offering skiing, fishing, swimming, scuba diving, camping, marinas, excursions and guided fishing trips.

LAKE WEDINGTON
Arkansas.com/Fishing-Spot/Lake-Wedington
An excellent spot for a natural weekend getaway. Boat ramp, seven-mile hiking trail, shorter Lakeshore Trail, fishing, hiking pier, mountain bike trails, camping, group campsite, pavilion, swimming, cabin rental and lodge rentals are available.

LAKE WILSON
Fayetteville-AR.gov/Facilities
A 270-acre natural Ozark environment, this woodlands setting offers fishing, a picnic pavilion and the primitive 2.6-mile Joe Clark Trail.

KINGS RIVER
Arkansas.com/Fishing-Spot/Kings-River
This stream twists its way 90 miles northward and empties into the White River, ending in southern Missouri’s Table Rock Lake. On the upper end, it cuts a narrow gap through sandstone, shale and limestone. Heading downstream, the surrounding countryside softens up a bit.

LAKE FAYETTEVILLE
Fayetteville-AR.gov/Facilities
The nearest escape to hike, fish, watch birds, study nature or get away from it all. Includes a boat dock and ramp, bait and tackle shop, pavilion, softball facilities, restrooms and playground. A 5.5-mile soft-surface trail circles the lake. If you plan on fishing, you need to obtain a city permit. Learn more at Fayetteville-AR.gov/3137/Fishing.

LAKE SEQUOYAH
Fayetteville-AR.gov/Facilities
Here, you’ll find 1,779 acres of natural terrain, a boat ramp and a bait and tackle shop. Several primitive routes lead to the lake for fishing.

WHERE THEY’RE BITING

While we can’t guarantee a catch, if you’re looking for fishing, these are your best bets.

BEAVER LAKE
At 28,370 acres, Beaver Lake is the birthplace of the White River and has given up several 40-pound-plus, state-record striped bass in the past. The lake also offers largemouth, smallmouth and white bass, crappie, bream and channel catfish, as well as spoonbill catfish fishing. Visitors have access to both clear and dingy water fishing while surrounded by limestone bluffs and the Ozark Mountains. The lake has picnic sites, swimming beaches, hiking trails, boat launch ramps, group picnic shelters, amphitheaters and campgrounds.

LAKE FAYETTEVILLE
Located amid a lush hardwood forest, Lake Wedington is stocked with bass, brook trout, crappie, bluegill, black crappie, and channel catfish. Fishing season is from late spring to early fall. Fishing is available from a ramp, boat launching ramp, or from the shore. Amenities include a lodge, pavilion, boat launching ramp, boathouse and overnight group camp. Boat motors above 10 horsepower are not allowed but can be kept out of the water and trolling motors used. Lake Wedington can be reached by traveling Ark. 16 west for 13 miles. The route is easily negotiable by trailers.

WHITE RIVER
The upper White River has a variety of catfish and bass, as well as sunfish. Spinnertails, crawfish imitators and skirted jigs (with pork tails) are recommended, along with minnows, crawfish and other natural baits. Below Bull Shoals Dam, the White River is an international trout-fishing destination. Fly-fishing is popular when waters are low; otherwise, 16- to 20-foot johnboats with 10- to 20-horsepower motors are common.

KINGS RIVER
Known for its large smallmouth bass, the Kings River also offers rock bass, channel catfish, walleye and white bass. Don’t think the size of the river mirrors the size of the fish. Trophy fish commonly reach four to six pounds, so a baitcasting reel, medium-action rod and 10- to 12-pound line are appropriate.

MULBERRY RIVER
From late spring to early summer, this river is a lovely spot for smallmouth, largemouth and spotted bass, as well as green and longear sunfish. During drier months, adventurers can hike through potentially slippery streambeds to fish potholes.

Don’t Forget Your Fishing License
Nonresident permits start at $16 for three days and are $50 for one year, while resident permits start at $5. Trout fishing licenses are in addition to general fishing licenses. Purchase online at agfc.com, or in sporting goods stores, hunting and fishing stores and other locations including Walmart. Visit the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission website at agfc.com or call 800-364-4263.
For many years, Starlight Skatium has been a go-to place for retro fun and entertainment in Fayetteville. It’s the type of skating rink you remember as a kid but with a 10,000-square-foot hardwood skating floor, snack bar and plenty of seating.

Plus, it’s home to NWA Roller Derby – the most crushingly awesome league in the state. Founded in 2006, these gals were the first in Arkansas to play roller derby under the new standardized rules and, night after night, they bring the ruckus to visiting teams. With players named things like Car Bomb or Kat Krash Fever or Slay Gatsby, you know you’re in for a good time.

So if you’re looking for something a little different that’s fun for the whole family, Starlight Skatium has got you covered.

BENTONVILLE, ARKANSAS
THE FLAGSHIP OF THE STATE

As the state’s largest institution of higher education, the University of Arkansas is a major source of pride for both Fayetteville and the state. Outstanding students and their notable achievements in multiple areas of study speak for themselves.

Founded in 1871, the university is now among the top 50 colleges and universities in the country as measured by the number of National Merit Scholars in attendance. More than 27,000 students and 4,200 faculty and staff call the U of A home.

The state’s only major research university offers a high-caliber education, with 10 colleges and schools offering more than 210 academic programs. Nationally, the U of A is ranked within the top 150 research universities, yet the institution continues to hold a place among America’s 100 Best College Buys.

The School of Architecture, the School of Law, the graduate program for rehabilitation education and research, and graduate programs for both biological and industrial engineering all hold national rankings. Since 2005, the Sam M. Walton College of Business has consistently been ranked in the top 25 public business schools.

Overall, the university ranked in 153rd place among national public universities in the 2020 edition of U.S. News and World Report’s America’s Best Colleges. More than just a school, students at the University of Arkansas have truly formed a community within Fayetteville. More than 50 percent of the university population participates in one of many registered student organizations.

In addition to academics, the campus overflows with beauty and history. Beginning at the front steps of Old Main, every graduate’s name is etched into Senior Walk, a pathway stretching more than five miles. Among the alumni listed are Robert Maurer, inventor of fiber optic technology; T.J. Holmes, American journalist; J. Walter Keller, developer of the heart pacemaker; Veronica Campbell-Brown, eight-time Olympic medalist; Jennifer McLoud-Mann, Ph.D., award-winning professor of mathematics; and E. Fay Jones, architect and only disciple of Franklin Lloyd Wright to win the AIA Gold Medal.

Semester after semester, season after season, academically and athletically, the University of Arkansas continually sets the mark for high achievement in Arkansas and nationwide.

JORDYN WIEBER
Head Coach of the Arkansas Razorbacks Gymnastics Team

What are your favorite places to eat in Fayetteville?
So far, my favorite place to eat is Arsaga’s on Church and Center. I love their avocado toast and coffee!

What’s one word you’d use to describe Fayetteville?
Unique!

What are your favorite events in town?
I love the farmer’s market every Saturday morning on the square and, of course, any Razorback sports event where I can cheer on the Hogs!

What’s the most surprising thing about Fayetteville?
The most surprising thing about Fayetteville is that while it feels like a quaint, small town, there is so much to do. We have great restaurants, bike trails, hiking, art, sporting events and so much more.

What’s the one thing you want people to know about Fayetteville?
I want people to know that in addition to Fayetteville being a great place to live, what makes it special is the people that are here. Everyone is extremely supportive of our athletics program and rally around the Razorbacks every weekend.

What do you love about being a coach?
I love coaching because it gives me an opportunity to impact people’s lives. We all have a passion for the sport of gymnastics, but it is also a great tool for learning life lessons. I love being able to coach young women to be confident in everything they do.

Do you have any pre-meet rituals?
Before every meet, the team gathers in our locker room, and we have a secret ritual that gets the team dialed in, motivated, and sets the intention for the day. We walk over to the competition arena together and get ready to start the meet. Other than that, I don’t have too many superstitions or rituals. I focus on having fun and staying present with the team despite any distractions!
WPS, Y’ALL

If you’re a fan of the Arkansas Razorbacks, then you know that WPS is shorthand for Woo Pig Sooie, the famous hog call of the state’s favorite team. Whether it’s football, baseball, basketball, volleyball or any of the other 11 sports at the University of Arkansas, die-hard fans show up rain or shine to cheer on the Hogs.

The first team formed on campus and the flagship of the sports programs is the Razorback football team. More than a century ago, the Arkansas football team, then called the Arkansas Cardinals, returned from defeating LSU and, as the legend goes, coach Hugo Bezdek proclaimed that his team “played like a wild band of razorback hogs.” The name was adopted, and the rest is history.

Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium, where the Hogs take the field for each home game in Fayetteville, holds more than 76,000 football fans — quite a bit more than the original stadium, which held a mere 300 fans. The stadium underwent a $160 million renovation and expansion to the north end zone, and it now boasts two mammoth video boards on both ends. One Razorback game a year is played at War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock.

Bud Walton Arena has also gotten an upgrade. The playing surface at the arena was officially named the Nolan Richardson Court in honor of the Razorbacks’ head coach from 1985-2002, who led them to a national championship in 1994.

In addition to the hog call, there are many unique traditions that run deep throughout the athletic programs, like the live mascot Tusk and the University of Arkansas fight song. The hog call and fight song resonate at all Razorback games and events, and Tusk can be seen on the field during each football game.

Fans of the university and visitors to the area attend sporting events year-round, as the school currently fields 19 total varsity teams — eight men’s and 11 women’s — in 11 sports. The men’s varsity sports include baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and of course, football; the women’s varsity sports include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, indoor and outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, tennis, softball and volleyball.

The Razorback athletic programs have received numerous awards throughout the years. Including the 1964 football championship and 1994 basketball championship, Razorbacks teams have won 47 national championships and numerous conference championships. The Razorbacks football team has won 11 conference championships and had 14 players and coaches elected to the National College Football Hall of Fame. In 2014, the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame added former basketball head coach Nolan Richardson — who ended his career with the Razorbacks with a 390-170 record — to its ranks. In 2020, former head coach Eddie Sutton was inducted.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR FAYETTEVILLE ITINERARY

Fayetteville can be pretty much any kind of vacation you want it to be. Get started with these suggestions and create the perfect day. Then create another one the next day with all-new choices.

MORNING:
Fayetteville Visitors Center
Find out what’s going on in the city during your visit, get tips or grab some local merch!

Breakfast at Little Bread Co.
When you have to choose between The Kramer and The Costanza, you know you’ve picked the right place.

Breakfast at Arsaga’s at the Depot
Try one of their fresh-roasted brews and see for yourself how well it goes with a Nutella crepe. Or splurge and have the biscuits and gravy.

Breakfast at The Farmer’s Table
Sample traditional breakfast food made fresh using locally sourced and organic ingredients.

Razorbak Greenway Trail
The visitors center on the square can help you rent a bike and explore the trails throughout the city and beyond.

Dickson Street Bookshop
Get lost in the huge selection of vintage and out-of-print reading material in this used bookstore.

Terra Studios
Drive 20 minutes east of the city to visit the magical artist sanctuary, home of the world-famous Bluebirds of Happiness, and explore the whimsical creations on the grounds.

LUNCH:
Downtown Square
Visit the Historic Downtown Square for lunch at a restaurant like Tiny Tim’s Pizza. (We recommend ordering the Meathead pizza.)

Hugo’s
Just off the square, you’ll find a great burger lunch at Hugo’s, a funky underground diner with a big beer selection.

HammonTree’s Grilled Cheese
Cheese has never been done better. Choose from the Scarlet Cheddar, East of Edam or our favorite, Cheebacca.

EVENING:
Arkansas Air & Military Museum
Head south to the Air & Military Museum, which houses a collection of vintage aircraft still in flight condition, modern planes from the post-World War II era and static displays of key military aircraft from the Vietnam era.

Arkadia Retrocade
Play a collection of vintage arcade games like Pac-Man, Donkey Kong and more. No quarters required.

Public Art
See the art on display throughout the Downtown and Dickson Street Entertainment District.

Wilson Park
See the famous “fantasy play castle sculpture garden” landmark that attracts visitors to the city every year.

OVERNIGHT:
Fayetteville Ale Trail
At the Experience Fayetteville Visitors Center, get a free Ale Trail passport that will guide you through the city’s collection of microbreweries.

Walton Arts Center
This performing arts venue brings in Broadway classics, musicals, entertainers and more.

Sunset at Mt. Sequoyah
Drive to the top of Mt. Sequoyah for a sweeping view of downtown and watch the sunset from the retreat center’s scenic overlook.

DINNER:
Herman’s Ribhouse
Order a steak from the popular Herman’s Ribhouse on College Avenue.

Vetro 1925
This sophisticated and modern interpretation of Italian food is the perfect way to treat yourself after a day of sightseeing.

LATE NIGHT:
Maxine’s Tap Room
Known for its cocktails, Maxine’s Tap Room offers a low-key atmosphere and a relaxing way to wrap up your day in Fayetteville.

George’s Majestic Lounge
Established in 1927, George’s is the place to be for live music year-round.

Shulertown Food Truck Court
Hungry for a late-night snack? The food trucks in Shulertown on Dickson Street offer options for any craving.

NEARBY SCENIC BYWAYS

BOSTON MOUNTAINS SCENIC LOOP/U.S. 71 AND I-49
Two very different roads crossing the highest part of the Ozarks combine to make the Boston Mountains Scenic Loop one of the country’s most interesting driving tours and most scenic motorcycle rides.

U.S. 71 rises and falls, twists and turns through the Boston Mountain range, allowing travelers to experience the rugged terrain. Along the way are small mountain towns, roadside farms and antique shops.

Not far to the west, I-49 (formerly I-540) defeats the mountains, streams, valleys and ridges with several soaring bridges and a tunnel carrying the speeding traffic of a superhighway.

Both routes offer impressive mountain vistas. The soaring highway of I-49 is sufficiently broad to give those traveling 70 mph a good look at the mountaintops. The Boston Loop on U.S. 71 offers many good locations to pull off the road and commune with the countryside.

ROUTE: The loop consists of two state-designated scenic byways, U.S. 71 and I-49, both of which run between Alma and Fayetteville.

LENGTH: 35 miles

ATTRACTIONS: Arkansas Wine Country, Devil’s Den State Park, Ft. Smith National Historic Site, Ozark Highlands Trail

PIG TRAIL NATIONAL FOREST SCENIC BYWAY
The rugged and forested Boston Mountains region of the Ozark Mountains provides the setting for this route, which creates a spectacular view of foliage during spring, summer and fall. Spring wildflowers and brilliant autumn foliage make the route especially popular. The route crosses the Mulberry River and the 165-mile Ozark Highlands Trail.

ROUTE: Arkansas 23 from the south boundary of the Ozark National Forest to its intersection with Arkansas 16 at Brashears.

LENGTH: 19 miles

ATTRACTIONS: Mulberry River Float Trips, Eureka Springs, Terra Studios
